LOCAL NEWS.

PETER HIRSH died on the 11th inst., and was interred on the 12th.

MASONIC.—There will be a special meeting of Winchester Lodge, No. 56, next Saturday evening, the 19th inst.

GILFORD JARRETT has opened a new livery stable in this place. We wish him success, as a livery stable was very much needed here.

JUDGE JAMES BROWN and family left our town for Mankato, Minnesota, on last Tuesday morning. Mr. B. has had a residence here of nearly twenty years.

John Souders and Oliver and John K. Martin have rented the large warehouse near the depot, and expect to engage in the grain trade. Success to them.

ADAM HIRSH, of this place, has gone on a visit to Germany. He will be absent about four months. He left on the eastern train, for New York, last Monday morning.

MR. WILLIS WILMORE will accept the thanks of the Journal office for a basket of very fine apples—two varieties, the Red Streak and Cathlamet—very large and excellent for cooking.

The soldier boys will meet at the Winchester cemetery on next Saturday, to clean up the grave-yard. The boys who helped to clean up the rebellion can not see a grave-yard look like a wilderness.

TO BE DISCHARGED.—The 8th, 13th, 124th Infantry and 7th Indiana Cavalry are ordered to be discharged. This will bring nearly all the Randolph boys home. We are pleased to make this announcement.

ESQUIRE CROPPER sent to this office some of the finest apples we have seen this season. We would give their names, if we knew them. We wish he had sent the names, and whether the trees were prolific bearers, &c. Mr. C. will accept our thanks for the same.

CHANGES.—Nathan Reed will take possession of his property near the depot, this week. Esq. Woodard goes to Cincinnati and takes a position in a wholesale house, and his family goes to Dayton, Ohio.

John Neff has changed his residence to the property formerly owned by Geo. W. Monks.

A YOUNG LADY who entered upon the solemn duties of a wife, within the last month, in a pleasant village in this State, has served a notice on the liquor dealers of the place to not sell her husband any more liquor, or she will commence a prosecution against the violating parties. We think she has a bright future before her.

JOHN W. JARRETT is circulating a petition, to be presented to the County Board, asking for the grant for a turnpike organization, under the law of last winter. This is a laudable enterprise, and we hope every citizen who owns real estate will sign it, and then let other citizens subscribe liberally, and we will have a pike to Deerfield.

WM. D. FRAZER, Esq., has taken possession of his fine residence on the corner of Meridian and South streets. We know his family must rejoice to get out of a country where the people rejoiced when the news of the death of President Lincoln reached them. There is not money enough in that country to make us a citizen of it. We would as soon be sent to the Dry Tortugas, as to such a place.

RETURNED.—The 147th Indiana has returned home, and had a reception at Indianapolis on the 11 inst. The regiment was at Harper's Ferry and near Winchester, Virginia, most of the time. We are not informed whether the boys were ever in an action or not, but we have no doubt that if an opportunity had offered, they would have sustained the fine reputation which Indiana soldiers have gained during the war. We welcome the boys home.

N. P. HEASTON sheared ninety pounds of wool from twelve head of Merino sheep, which sold for fifty cents per pound, and raised ten lambs from the same. The heaviest fleece weighed thirteen pounds, from the buck—weight of carcass, after shearing, eighty-five pounds. The lightest fleece weighed five pounds, from a yearling ewe.

BLACKGUARDS AND BULLIES.—It is a difficult matter for a gentleman or lady to travel upon the cars, or in any public conveyance, without being insulted or having their sensibility shocked by obscene language, profanity or drunkenness. The time was when these classes of men were put off the trains or public conveyances, but through a desire to make money, or timidity, or some other insufficient reason, these classes of individuals are permitted to bawl, yelp, flourish their whisky bottles, and use the most profane language, without any notice being taken of it, and if a passenger attempts to reprove or requests better order, he is insulted and threatened with a pair of fists from a bully, or a knife or revolver is shooed in his face, accompanied with the most horrible oaths. A reform is demanded. There must be an organized police to accompany our public conveyances, or else cars must be set apart for the accommodation of rowdies and blackguards, where profanity and whisky drinking, and smoking, is allowed, and all that class of men compelled to take their seats there; and whenever men violate the rules of decorum, put them in the blackleg car.

TO TEACHERS.—I would be happy to have all who expect to attend the Teachers' Institute, be present the first day of the session. Complete organization, at as early an hour as possible, is desirable. Prof. Hoss will be with us on Tuesday, the second day of the session, and as teachers of Randolph, we all will take pride in presenting ourselves in good working order, before our worthy Superintendent.

Hon. G. W. Julian will address the Institute sometime during the first week—day and hour not yet determined.

Examination for license to teach, on Saturday, 20th inst.

FARMLAND.

RETURNED HOME.

Captain Pegg's company, of the 147th regiment, has returned home—to be discharged in a few days. They lost but two men in their whole term of service; two others were left sick, I understand.

A CHANGE.

John A. Moorhead, recently a clerk in the house of J. A. Henning, is now employed in the house of T. B. Routh & Co., to which place he has removed the Post-Office.

IMPROVEMENTS.

W. C. Jones has very materially improved his residence; it now presents the appearance of a new building.

R. C. Shaw has erected a neat dwelling in the south-east part of town.

R. H. Grooms is erecting a neat building on Main street.

Health and trade very good.

ABT.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP.

GONE WEST.

Strother Brumfield and his wife have gone West—through different States—to look at the country.

WHEAT.

As the wheat has signally failed this year, from different causes, one among which is the work of the weevil, I would say that many in this township are going to use the red stem in preference to any other, from the fact that it stood the winter better than any other kind of wheat. Jonathan Edwards raised the red stem this year, on the Stakebar farm, with more success than any other man in the west part of the township.

DELAYED.

Mr. Morris has delayed the building of the school house, at No. 2, for awhile, on account of the illness of his wife, who is very low, of consumption.

PREPARING TO MOVE.

Alvin Owens is preparing to move to town in a few days.

J. H. STINE.

LYNN.

Rev. C. P. Wright, who is traveling for the Bible cause, preached a good sermon in this place on Tuesday evening, the 8th inst. The contribution was small—too small for so large an audience—but we hope Mrs. Ball, who was appointed to raise further subscription, will be able to send up a better report.

Win. R. Wood is preparing to open a wagon shop in our town, and Eli Cadwallader is expecting to continue the cabinet business, and H. D. Nichols is going ahead as a carpenter. All the above are returned soldiers. Dr. J. S. Monteith, who has also returned from the army, has bought a horse for $175, and is now prepared to resume his former practice. We have of late noticed some splendid fields of corn. The ears in a few fields, on an average, are as high as a man's head, and we noticed some ears as high as a man could reach.

Wheat threshing is progressing as fast as the wet weather will admit, but as a general thing the yield is light and of an inferior quality. One field we have heard, yielded over seventeen bushels per acre.

SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

I am glad to see that the columns of the Journal are open to articles on the above-named subject; and that correspondents in different parts of the county are writing on the subject. It shows that editors are ready and willing to lend their influence to promote this as well as other good causes, and that the people are waking up to a subject of vital importance to the young and rising generations.

I was pleased to see the suggestion of Mr. Bondi—afterward seconded by Mr. D. W. Jones—relative to holding annual Sunday-School Conventions. I would suggest that there has been talk enough; the friends of Sunday-Schools are ready to act in the matter. Will not some one, who has been longer in the county than myself, suggest the time and place to meet, and set the project in motion. What hinders? The war is over, the people's minds are relieved from the excitement and anxiety of the last four years, the soldier-boys have returned home, and to their praise be it said, are ready and willing, if not anxious, to engage in the good work. Since their return the schools in this part of the county have greatly increased in interest and numbers. We only lack now the hearty co-operation of the parents. When we have that, and some of their pecuniary aid, then the good work will go on and much more good will be speedily accomplished, and I can think of no move that would be more effectual in enlisting the parents than annual Sunday-School Conventions.

I have been visiting some of the neighboring schools, of late. They all seem to be alive, and at work in good earnest. In one school I found a very interesting sight—an "infant class"—as it was called. The teacher, and all the pupils, save one, were looking through spectacles, their heads silvered with gray hairs, and all of them mothers. Another remarkable feature—perhaps two-thirds of the teachers were aged men and women, and a very large portion of the scholars then present were young ladies and gentlemen. Several of the latter, I noticed, as soon as they were done with their regular exercises, drew forth from their pockets a copy of the Randolph Journal, and quietly perused its contents. How much better this, I thought, than spend the time in whispering, laughing, &c., which is too often the case in the schools.

Huntsville, Aug. 10, 1865. ***

The Mississippi State Convention met at Jackson on Monday. Governor Sharkey examined into the loyalty and qualifications of the members elect, after which the Convention was permanently organized, and adjourned without transacting any business of importance.

Dispatches from Detroit give the particulars of a terrible disaster which occurred on Wednesday evening on Lake Huron, six miles from shore. A collision took place between the steamers Meteor and Pewabic, by which the latter was so badly injured that she sank in about four minutes, carrying down with her many of her passengers and crew. It is estimated that one hundred lives were lost.

The pleasant countenance of the Carters, at the First National Dry Goods Store, is a sufficient evidence that they are doing a good business. They keep a general assortment of Dry Goods, Queensware, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps—as good as ever offered for sale.

Peace and good will to all men, and a desire to benefit those who purchase groceries, Will R. Way & Co., have determined to sell their Groceries on the most favorable terms. The light is shed abroad; and a fresh lot of that good Coffee and Sugar is received at Lyman Ind., by Powell & Hinshaw; also a new lot of Muslins and Pant Goods, &c., which makes their customers look well and feel good. The Coffee is No. 1, the Sugar is sweet, and their Dry Goods can't be beat, and is leaving their store room on a fast scale. John, do go and get a pair of Pants and bring me some of that Coffee and Sugar.

The carpenter work of Mr. Klinck's fine residence, on the corner of Franklin and West streets, is now completed, and we think Mr. Klinck can certainly feel proud of it, for it certainly stands equal if not above any house in Winchester. Andrew J. Favorite was the principal workman, and is entitled to the patronage of the people of this place. We recommend all persons who are interested in good work to call and examine Mr. Klinck's house, as he will take pleasure in your calling for that purpose. And when you have a good job of work, Mr. Favorite will do it just right, if you will give him good lumber.

BIBLE CAUSE.—Bibles and Testaments have been in the hands of local agents over the county for some time, for sale and distribution. We wish to collect them in. All persons having such in their possession will please return them to the Treasurer, Martin A. Reeder, at Winchester, with all moneys from the sale of books, except the townships of Jackson, Wayne, and Green's Fork, which will report to Edward Starbuck, at Union City, Or, if it is desired, I will collect all such, if those having them will let me know where they are to be found. My address is Winchester, Ind. We wish this work completed by the first of September next.
